FROM THE DAIRY OF ANNE FRANK

LECTURE - 2

QUESTIONS

1. What makes writing in a diary a strange experience for Anne Frank?

Ans. Writing in a diary was a strange experience for Anne Frank as she had never written anything earlier. She also thought that nobody would be interested in reading the thoughts of a thirteen year old girl. २.

QUESTIONS

2. Why does Anne want to keep a diary?

Ans. Anne wanted to keep a diary because she felt that she had no true and sincere friend with whom she could share her secrets. She believed that she could do so with her diary which would act as her best friend.

QUESTIONS

3. Do you think Mr. Keesing was a strict teacher?

Ans. Yes, I think Mr. Keesing was a strict teacher, but he was not rigid. He expected discipline and silence in his class while he was teaching. He punished Anne by asking her to write an essay on A Chatterbox, When Anne wrote a convincing essay he received it with a good laugh/humour. However, when Anne continued with her talking, he punished her again. This time the topic of the essay was 'An Incurable Chatterbox'. Even after this when she kept on talking, he asked her to write on the topic 'Quack Quack Quack, said Mistress Chatterbox' punishment. He was trying to play a joke on her. However, Anne came up with a brilliant poem in response. He read this poem in the class, acknowledging its content. Therefore, in regard of these events, Mr. Keesing could not be labelled entirely as a strict teacher. He was fun-loving as well.

QUESTIONS

4. What made Mr. Keesing allow Anne to talk in class?

Or How did Mr. Keesing's attitude towards Anne change?

Ans. Anne wrote the essay on the topic 'Quack Quack Quack' said 'Mistress Chatterbox' in the form of a poem. She wrote that a father swan had bit his ducklings to death for quacking too much. Mr. Keesing liked that essay and changed his attitude towards Anne. Since then, he allowed Anne to talk in class.

QUESTIONS

5. What does Anne write in her first essay?

Ans. In her first essay, Anne wrote about her talkative nature. She tried to justify her trait as a characteristic of every student. She also stated that she would try to control it but was not sure she would be able to do so because she had inherited this trait from her mother and no one could cure an inherited trait.

QUESTIONS

6. Anne says teachers are most unpredictable. Is Mr. Keesing unpredictable?

Ans. Yes, Mr. Keesing was unpredictable. In the beginning, he gave Anne unusual punishments. However, finally he pardons her altogether. First, she was punished by having to write an essay on 'A Chatterbox'. In this way, he tried to play a joke on her. Each time he asked her to write such essays, she wrote very well and kept countering his jokes.

One could not have predicted that he would take all the jokes in the right spirit. Finally, he accepted her talkative nature. He actually allowed her to talk in class. He did not even assign her extra homework any more. It shows that Mr. Keesing was unpredictable.

- (d) 3 and 7

QUESTIONS

Ans. (c) 2, 3 and 5

QUESTIONS

ii. Anne believes that 'Paper has more patience than people'. What does that say about her personality?

Ans. Anne's belief that paper has more patience than people shows that she found people to be dismissive towards her thoughts and ideas. Such experiences must have made her secretive and shy, which is why she chose a diary to be her most trusted friend and secret confidante.

QUESTIONS

- iii. Which word from the extract means the same as the underlined word?
He was thinking over the matter and took a long time to decide.

Ans. brooding

QUESTIONS

iv. What does the following line tell about Anne's perception of people?
"since I'm not planning to let anyone else read this... it probably won't make a bit of difference."

Ans. The given line shows that Anne was worried about the opinions of people towards her thoughts and words.

QUESTIONS

13. Read the extract carefully and answer the questions that follow.

I started right away at the Montessori nursery school. I stayed there until I was six, at which time I started in the first form. In the sixth form my teacher was Mrs. Kuperus, the headmistress. At the end of the year we were both in tears as we said a heartbreaking farewell. In the summer of 1941 Grandma fell ill and had to have an operation, so my birthday passed with little celebration.

QUESTIONS

- i. The phrase 'right away' in this extract most nearly means
- (a) with delay
 - (b) the correct way
 - (c) immediately
 - (d) overtaking from right

QUESTIONS

Ans. (c) immediately

QUESTIONS

ii. What does the narrator mean by saying 'we were both in tears'?

Ans. The narrator means that they cried as the narrator and Mrs. Kuperus bade a heart-breaking farewell at the end of the year.

QUESTIONS

- iii. Select the option that correctly captures the application of the word 'form' as used in the extract.
- (a) Raghav was in good form while playing the match.
 - (b) Saheb was promoted to the next form after the annual exam.
 - (c) My brother did not know how to form a circle.
 - (d) Anne saw the form on the headmaster's desk.

QUESTIONS

Ans. (a) Raghav was in good form while playing the match.

QUESTIONS

iv. Complete the analogy by selecting a word from the text.

Dawn : Dusk :: Mourning : _____.

Ans. Celebration

QUESTIONS

14. "Paper has more patience than people." What does the saying mean?

Ans. The given saying means that one can write without any interruption. Paper does not stop you in between like people do. It does not judge you for your opinions and is always there for you whenever you want to talk about something.

QUESTIONS

15. Why does Anne think that 'paper' has more patience than people?

Ans. Anne believes that paper has more patience than people because she thinks that she would have to monitor her thoughts if she were to talk to actual people. She could also be apprehensive about the reactions of her friends upon listening to her thoughts.

But writing her thoughts on paper would eliminate all those worries and she would be free to write what she wanted to say, when she wanted to say it.

QUESTIONS

16. Anne wrote in her diary to get things off her chest.

List any two reasons why getting things off one's chest is recommended by counsellors as therapeutic.

Ans. Getting things off the chest means to vent out your feelings if you are hurt or unhappy. The counsellors recommend it as therapeutic because it makes our mind and body feel light and relaxed. A relaxed mind and body is always good for physical and psychological health.

QUESTIONS

17. Who would Anne consider a real friend based on 'The Diary of Anne Frank'? Describe in 20-30 words.

Ans. Anne would consider someone a real friend if she could share whatever is in her heart and confide in him or her without being judged for her various thoughts and ideas.

QUESTIONS

18. Kitty was a trusted friend to Anne. Elaborate.

Ans. Kitty was a trusted friend to Anne because Kitty was a diary. Anne used to write down all of her thoughts in Kitty.

But Kitty could never betray her secrets because Anne never planned to let anyone read her thoughts written in the diary. That is why Anne called Kitty her trusted friend.

QUESTIONS

19. 'Anne is a clever girl.' Do you agree? Justify your answer.

Ans. I agree with the statement that Anne was a clever girl. We know of this because of the various humorous essays she had written as a homework. Her responses to the three essays given as a punishment by Mr. Keesing for talking too much are smart and intelligent. They not only proved her point but also made everyone laugh.

QUESTIONS

20. How does Anne Frank's writing engage readers?

Comment on any aspect with evidence from 'The Diary of Anne Frank' in 40-50 words.

Or Give two reasons to support the opinion that Anne's diary is interesting to readers.

Ans. I think Anne Frank's writing engages readers because it is easy for readers to understand her story. For instance, before she starts her first entry, she gives a brief sketch of her life. This background information helps the reader to understand her context.

Easy language

QUESTIONS

21. How did Kitty help Anne overcome her loneliness?

Ans. Anne thought that she could confide more in her diary than people because she did not have a true friend. She did not know anyone with whom she could share her feeling. Although she had a great number of friends and had also spent good times with them, she was unable to share her views and thoughts with them. She also had a loving family and a good home. However, she never found anyone to confide her secrets. She believed that nobody would be interested enough in her feelings and views.

When Anne got her diary, she decided to share everything with it. She treated her diary as her best friend. It would keep her life a secret and would not react as people did. So, she confided everything in the diary, be it her family, her fears, her loneliness, her life, etc. It was the diary that gave her the support.

Thus, the diary, (Kitty) was an important part of Anne's life that help her overcome her loneliness.

QUESTIONS

22. In 'The Diary of Anne Frank' how does Anne Frank feel about Mr. Keesing's essay assignments and what is her purpose for writing them? Describe what this tells us about her in 100-120 words.

Imp

Ans. Anne takes Mr. Keesing's essay assignments as a challenge. She thinks Mr. Keesing is either trying to teach her a lesson or make fun of her by doing so. Therefore, for the first essay, her purpose is to convince Mr. Keesing of the importance of talking and why it is impossible for her to talk less. For her third essay, she tries to be inventive and composes a poem to humour Mr. Keesing. Both these incidents show us that Anne is a creative person who takes challenges in her stride. After the submission of all her essays, she is also successful in being permitted to talk in class. This also shows that she is a good writer.

QUESTIONS

23. Anne wanted to write convincing arguments to prove the necessity of talking. What does this tell you about her? Did she possess a sense of humour?

Or What do you think about Anne's talent for writing essays which she wrote convincingly, when punished by the teacher?

Ans. When Anne was given extra homework to write an essay on 'A Chatterbox, Anne thought that she had to write convincing arguments to prove the necessity of talking. This fact tells us that Anne was an intelligent and sensible girl with a good sense of humour. She thought about the essay and her arguments for a long time to get an idea. When she got it, she presented her essay. In her essay, Anne argued that talking was a student's trait. The only thing that she could do was to try to control it. She even justified that she could not cure it completely as she had inherited it from her mother.

QUESTIONS

Yes, Anne possesses a good sense of humour. Anne's sense of humour comes forward when in her third essay, she wrote a funny poem to express her trait of talking. Her poem consisted of a humorous story of how a father swan bit its ducklings to death because they quacked too much. Her poetry was received in the right way by Mr. Keesing and he never punished her after that.
